[Despatch Abstract.]

Public Services - Madras Ministerial Service and Madras Judicial Ministerial Service - Recruitment - 1948.

From
Sri C. Krishnaswami
Chetty
Secretary, Public Service
Commission, Madras -8.

To
The Chief Secretary to Government,
Public (Services) Department,
Fort St. George,
Madras.

No.441-E4/48-1, dated 7th February 1948.

Sir,

Recruitment - Madras Secretariat Service, Madras Ministerial Service and Madras Judicial (Ministerial) Service - Clerks - 1948.

I am to say that according to the estimates received by the Commission from the appointing authorities concerned, the number of candidates required for appointment as clerks etc. in the Madras Ministerial Service, Madras Judicial Ministerial Service and in the Central Branches of the Madras Secretariat Service during 1948 is 1,721, 102 and 3 respectively, making a total of 1,826.

2. At the competitive written examination held by the Commission in October 1947 for this recruitment, 2,164 candidates as detailed below obtained qualifying marks:--

Harijans	..	15
Muslims	..	118
Christians	..	143
Backward Hindus	..	251
Non-Brahman (Hindus)		721
Brahmans	..	916
		2,164.

3. From among these 2,164 candidates, the Commission has allotted 1,324 candidates as detailed below in accordance with the revised communal rotation introduced by G.O.No.3437 Public (Services), dated 21-11-47 and the linquistic requirements as specified by the appointing authorities:-

Harijans	..	15
Muslims	..	66
Christians	..	104
Backward Hindus	..	233
Non-Brahman (Hindus)		718
Brahmans	..	188
		1,324

4. This leaves a balance of 499 vacancies in the Madras Ministerial Service and Madras Judicial Ministerial Service against which no candidates could be allotted because candidates belonging to the Harijan and Non-Brahman (Hindu) communities who are entitled to those vacancies under the revised communal allocation are not available from among the candidates who obtained qualifying marks.

5. Excluding 17 candidates who have applied solely for vacancies in the Central Branches of the Madras Secretariat Service and 7 candidates who are subjects of Indian States, the number of candidates still available for allotment and the communities from which they are available are as follows:--

Muslims	..	52
Christians	..	33
Backward Hindus	..	17
Brahmans	..	714
		816

These candidates have NOT yet been allotted. They can be allotted only out of their communal turns, and in the case of Brahmans far in advance of their turns.

6. Owing to paucity of candidates belonging to the Harijan and Non-Brahman (Hindu) communities, it is not possible to meet either partly or fully the requirements of several departmental units....

units and districts, unless allotments are made out of the communal turns from among the available communities.

7. I am to enquire whether the Government desire the Commission to allot out of the turns of the communities to which they belong, all or any of the 816 candidates referred to in paragraph 5 above against the balance of 499 vacancies referred to in paragraph 4 and against further requisitions which it is usual for the appointing authorities to send during the course of the year.

A very early reply will be greatly appreciated.

Your Obedient Servant,

Sd/ C. Krishnaswamy,
Secretary.

Letter Ms.No.402.

From

The Chief Secretary to the Government of Madras,
Public (Services) Department

To the Secretary,
Madras Public Service Commission

Dated Fort St. George the 23rd February, 1948.

Sir,

Public Services - Madras Ministerial Service and Madras Judicial Ministerial Service - Recruitment - 1948.

Commission's letter No.441-E4/48-1, dated 7-2-1948.

I am directed to say that, in the circumstances stated in your letter cited, the Government have no objection to the allotment of all or any of the remaining 816 candidates referred to therein against the balance of 499 vacancies and against further requisitions that may be received for appointment in the Madras Ministerial Service and the Madras Judicial Ministerial Service, irrespective of their communal turns.

Yours faithfully,

K. Ramunni Menon,
Chief Secretary to Government.
